Confined Space Covers

Barrier Protection & Signage, All-in-One

All confined spaces are considered to be permit required until a hazard assessment has identified the dangers within

A Permit Required Confined Space:

- + Is an area that is large enough for a worker to enter, but has limited access for entry & exit and is not made for human occupancy
- + Has potential hazards due to its configuration such as fall hazards or entrapment
- + Has potential dangers such as low oxygen, toxic gases, chemical exposures, temperature extremes & more

Confined Spaces can cause serious injury or even death for workers entering the space if they are exposed to the dangers that reside within the space

What OSHA Requires

1. Consistently identify the confined spaces in your workplace with signage
2. Display required 'Danger' signage to alert workers of the confined spaces & associated dangers
3. Prevent unauthorized entry during times when your confined spaces are not being monitored

"Requirements per OSHA's 29CFR 1910.146 Standard for Permit-Required Confined Spaces"

MASTER LOCK CONFINED SPACE

What Are Confined Space Covers?

Master Lock confined space covers are the best practice solution for complying with OSHA and protecting your employees from the dangers of confined spaces. They provide required signage as well as an effective barrier to entry, exceeding the OSHA requirements.

When Do I Use Covers?

- + Once a confined space entryway has been opened, covers provide required signage needed to alert workers of confined space danger
- + During long periods between entry operations, lockable covers provide added security and shield against contamination of the space
- + During break periods of active maintenance, ventilated covers provide excellent signage and encourage air flow
